

EASY INSTANT INVOICING

Senddr instantly transfers invoices between accounting systems

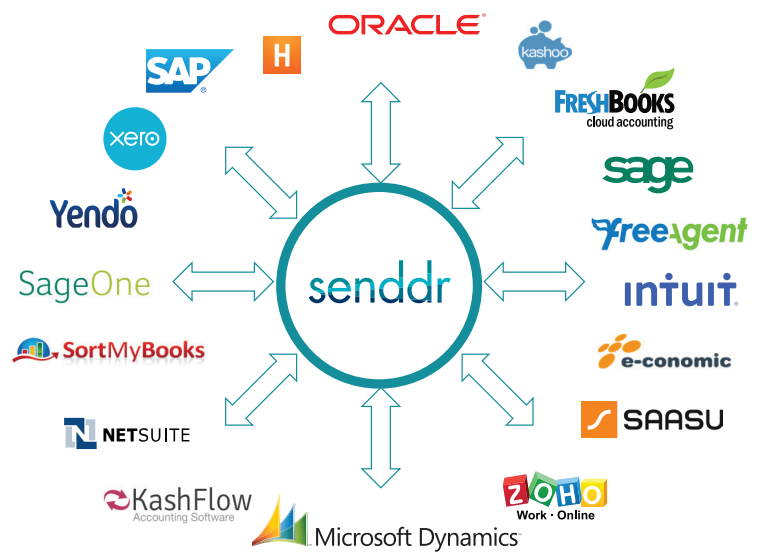

Using Senddr, your invoices are automatically transferred from your accounting system directly into your customers accounting system. When you send an invoice you get confirmation that it was delivered and an alert when your customer marks it as paid. When you receive an invoice Senddr will check that it is complete and that it has a correct PO number, Senddr will save it directly into your accounts eliminating data entry.

Sending Sales Invoices

- Instantly transfer invoices into your customers accounts
- Get a receipt when your invoice is delivered
- Get an alert when your invoice is marked as paid

Receiving Purchase Invoices

- Purchases saved directly to your accounts with no data-entry
- Reduction in supplier payment enquiries
- Automated PO validation
- Optional invoice staging area for manual review and editing

Easy to Setup & Easy to Use

Our accounting software connector brings enterprise scale invoicing to SMEs everywhere. With no coding or integration required, our technology saves both time and money allowing you to focus on running your business.

We've already created the integration with your accounting software so you don't need any technical knowledge to get started. Simply connect Senddr to your accounts using our online dashboard and we will do the rest.

The Senddr solution has been built for large and small enterprises alike. It is ISO 27001 compliant, the gold standard in information security.

Senddr also uses the latest and strongest encryption techniques available to reliably and securely deliver your invoices.

www.senddr.com

info@senddr.com

